Dog dies, 8 misplaced after fire in Buttonwillow

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

A fire at a building in Buttonwillow killed a dog, left eight residents without a home and destroyed a furniture storage area.

The Kern County Fire Department responded to a building in the 100 block of Front Street on Sunday, May 16 at around 10:30 a.m. The heavy flames ignited a car next to the building and an adjacent building.

The building, a two-story structure, had apartments on the upper floor and a furniture storage area on the bottom floor.

All firefighters and the residents escaped injury, other than the canine fatality, the fire department reported.

To help the residents, SAVE cards were distributed from the California Fire Foundation. The Red Cross was also on hand to assist the victims of the blaze.

The cause of the fire and the estimated value loss as a result of the blaze was not available at press time.

Man dies after shooting, crashes into orchard

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

A Wasco man was found dead in his vehicle after being shot and then crashing into an orchard in Shafter.

The man, later identified as Tony Sanchez, 64, of Wasco, had reportedly crashed into the orchards near the intersection of Fresno and Beech avenues.

At approximately 1 p.m., the Shafter Police Department received a call of an accident near the intersection. Shafter Police Department officers found Sanchez in the vehicle deceased, the victim of a gunshot wound.

According to Police Captain Diana Burnett, it is suspected that there is another vehicle involved in the incident. At the beginning of the incident, there was misinformation being reported that the accident was the result of a police pursuit. This turned out to be false, with the police department arriving on the scene after the vehicle had crashed into the orchard.

Fresno Avenue was closed for several hours to conduct the investigation and clean up the scene. The investigation is ongoing. Anyone with any information on this incident should contact the Shafter Police Department at 661-746-8500.

Wasco council silent on city manager replacement

TONI DEROSA
Wasco Tribune

The City Council called for a special meeting May 13 with one agenda item; city manager.

The meeting was closed session and once the council reconvened, the city attorney announced there was no reportable action. There has been no word on a selection process for a new city manager. Prior to Daniel Ortiz-Hernandez' hiring in 2018, the city used an interim city manager, Larry Pennell.

After Ortiz-Hernandez had been with the city for one year, his contract was renegotiated for an additional two-year extension beyond the original contract, which would have ended in 2024. He also received a 0.3% salary increase with an annual salary at the time of $175,000. His increase for fiscal year 2019-20 placed him at $180,250 and his increase for fiscal year 2020-21 places his salary a little over $185,000.

Ortiz-Hernandez' resignation has been delayed until after several pending issues for the city has been resolved. There has been no definite departure date announced.

Ortiz-Hernandez has accepted the position of city manager for Webster City, Iowa, from where he was hired in 2018.

"I am grateful for Daniel's dedication and tireless commitment to our city over the years and wish him the best in his professional endeavors," Mayor Alex Garcia said in a statement.

Community says goodbye to Donuts to Go owner who died in crash

TONI DEROSA
Wasco Tribune

A Wasco family held a candlelight vigil to honor their recently deceased father on May 12.

On Friday, April 30, Wasco Donuts to Go owner Lon Mam, 64, was driving to Hanford to visit an uncle. A 29-year-old unidentified man driver from Tulare sped into Mam's lane and the vehicles collided. Both drivers died at the scene.

The immediate Mam family, from left: mother Kim, father Lon, daughter Julie holding her son, Christian, next to nephew Christian, daughter Monica holding her son, Ace, and daughter, Miranda.

WASCO

The Mam family set up a GoFundMe to help toward the cost of funeral expenses and they organized a candlelight vigil to honor their father by inviting the community.

"The news of Lon Mam's death spread like quicksand," council member Tilo Cortez said.

The funeral was held Saturday at Alma Funeral Home in Bakersfield.

For the candlelight vigil, Mayor Alex Garcia assisted in the coordination of the evening with the family.

Garcia welcomed attendees to the vigil and praised Mam's family for being a positive and integral part of the Wasco family-oriented culture and said the community would always be available for them.

Cortez stated that he was surprised Donuts to Go only opened in Wasco in 1991 because he felt as if it had always been there and Mam was always the owner of the donut shop.

Mam's oldest daughter, Melinda Mam, told the attendees at the vigil that another owner had the original donut shop and named it Donuts to Go. The Mam family decided to keep the name and continue the business when they purchased it in 1991.

"It's so touching to see so many family friends here at the vigil," Melinda Mam said. "Dad would have been so happy for us."

Lon Mam was born in Takeo, Cambodia. He immigrated to Texas in the 1980s and worked in construction. Lon and his wife, Kim Mam, met at a camp in Thailand when they were younger.

The Mam daughters spoke lovingly of both their parents. Their parents were born in Cambodia and life was very rough for them. Cambodia, being so close to Vietnam, was embroiled in the North and South Vietnam conflict that started in 1961.

The girls explained that their dad would share with them how hard life had been for he and his wife as kids while they were living in Cambodia.

During the time that the couple lived in Cambodia as youngsters, it was ruled by the Khmer Rouge soldiers, which was a regime that ruled Cambodia. The leader Pol Pot from 1975-79 attempted to make a "master race," thereby, creating a genocide that executed (often with pickaxes, to save bullets) Cambodians and buried them in mass graves. This is what life was like for Lon Mam and his wife when they lived there.

"My mother saw her brother killed in front of her in Cambodia," Melinda Mam said.

The Mam's moved to Fresno where he worked in a donut shop. While looking for a place to open up his own business, they discovered Donuts to Go was for sale in Daughter Monica Mam comforts her mother, Kim Mam, at the candlelight vigil.

Wasco, so they bought it and have become a part of the Wasco community.

Lon Mam's daughters talked about his kindness, guidance and the good example he set for everyone.

Lon Mam leaves behind his wife, three daughters and two grandsons, Christian and Irvin, and many family members such as cousins, aunts and uncles and local friends who have gotten to know him over the years.

It is unknown if Donuts to Go will remain open as the family has yet to make a decision.

Shafter council honors football team, receives feedback from survey

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

The City Council recognized the undefeated Shafter High School football team at its Tuesday meeting.

Mayor Cathy Prout presented a proclamation to the members of the undefeated team who sported a 5-0 record this season. Led by Coach Jerald Pierucci, the team outscored its opponents 233-29 and outgained its opponents by a five to one margin.

"This team showed a unity and love for one another and represented the city of Shafter with class," said Prout.

Pierucci thanked the city for its "amazing support" and his team for their performance on and off the field.

"These guys loved representing the city of Shafter and proudly worked for the name on the front of their jerseys," said Pierucci.

The council also received the results of a survey that was conducted by a group of California State University, Bakersfield students on the city. The team surveyed residents and asked them a series of questions that covered the quality of life in Shafter, the confidence they have of the city's leadership, as well as what the most important needs are of the city.

SHAFTER

The overall strength of the city, according to the survey, was the performance of the city's police department and fire services. The survey showed that over 80% of those surveyed were extremely satisfied with the law enforcement presence.

The responders thought that the area needing most improvement was the employment opportunities and the housing industry. Those responding showed that only 58% were satisfied with the employment outlook in the city, and 62% showed confidence in housing developments in Shafter.

The Shafter High School Varsity Generals football team was honored for their undefeated season.

The downtown area was the biggest area that responders thought needed improvement.

Responders showed dissatisfaction with the way the city communicates with its residents. It also showed dissatisfaction with the Shafter Press. Luisa Acosta, of California State University, Bakersfield, said that this was the result of the changing of this generation's way of communicating.

"This is in part to the changing way people receive their news, with a lot more of this generation not reading the newspaper, and gravitating more to social media, such as Facebook, Instagram, and other media platforms," Acosta said.

She said that the survey indicated that more emphasis should be put on social media for reaching residents.

Overall, the responders showed a great quality of life in Shafter, other than retirees. There was a low score on the confidence the responders had when it came to opportunities for people retiring in the city.

In next week's Shafter Press, we will be reporting on a proposed budget for the 2021-22 fiscal year which will be presented to the council for review. This proposed budget will be discussed by the City Council at its meeting on June 1.

Valadao also had the chance to sit in a vintage aircraft and the LOACH helicopter, which has been at the museum for the past two years.
Valadao discussed the possible opportunities that may be available to help the museum.
“We discussed some challenges the museum is facing and how my office may be able to assist,” said Valadao.

“We have had a very challenging year, with having to cancel our Wings ‘n Wheels, which is one of our major fundraisers of the year. Any help we can get from the different grants available would help keep us going until we are able to get our organization back up to normal,” said Pierce.
Valadao said he enjoyed his time at the museum.
“I was really impressed by their collections,” he said. “I appreciated the team at the museum taking time to give me a tour.”

Valadao returned to Congress after defeating TJ Cox, who had taken the seat from Valadao in the 2010 election. Since his victory, Valadao has been championing local causes that concern the Central Valley, such as the need for sufficient water supplies and assisting local farming companies who have been affected by the pandemic.

Mask policy unchanged in county for now

JAMIE STEWART
The Shafter Press

The mask policy is not changing yet in Shafter as the city announced masks are still needed indoors in public places and at events with a large crowd.
This past week there was a slight increase in new cases in the city with 19 newly reported cases. This brings the total confirmed cases in Shafter to 3,552. Wasco has had 5,416 confirmed cases.
“The California Department of Public Health has not updated their mask guidance at this time. Kern County residents should continue to follow the current state face covering guidance,” said Michelle Corson, spokeswoman for Kern County’s Public Health Department.
The Center for Disease Control announced last Thursday that fully vaccinated people do not need to wear a mask or social distance themselves.

Erin Briscoe, a spokeswoman for the Kern High School District, said that their guidelines are staying the same.
“As of right now, the newly released CDC guidance is not changing much for us. We will continue to follow the California Department of Public Health guidance regarding face coverings.”
In other city news, it was announced recently that residents will need to adjust their routes when traveling around the Lerdo Highway area where the railroad crossing is located. The rail crossing will be closed beginning Tuesday, May 18 through Friday, May 21 due to maintenance.

Over 30 vendors turned out this past weekend at the Shafter Congregational Church’s pop-up event.
Pastor Mark Scialabba and church volunteers were on hand with a variety of pamphlets and information on salvation. Scialabba also said that they had a lot of vendors who were offering a variety of items, from clothing, jewelry, to baked goods.
“These pop-up events are really popular right now and we are helping the community by giving them a chance to shop in one spot,” Scialabba said.
The church parking lot was full of vendors who were selling their products.
“These events have been a God-send, letting a lot of vendors display their products, giving them a chance to serve the community and be productive in their different businesses,” said Mary Martinez, who has been selling her beauty products at different pop-up events the entire year. “I didn’t know what I was going to do when my hours were cut at work, but I was looking online and saw an opportunity to supplement my income with these products.”

There was also a booth helping local women stay safe and able to protect themselves. Karen Odle was at the event as a representative of Damsel in Distress, a company that makes self-defense products for women.
“Women need to take steps in protecting themselves, also giving them self confidence,” Odle said.
The products ranged from small key chains that have serrated edges that can be used as a stabbing tool, to tasers that can incapacitate an attacker with one burst. There was also an electronic door alarm that can be used on any door, letting the homeowner know when a door has been opened.
“You put the alarm under the edge of the door,” Odle said. “This is also good for people with small children as it would notify you if a child has opened a door that they were not supposed to go out. The alarm will sound and stay on until it is turned off.”
Odle also said that they have an app that is good for an entire family or group of friends. You download the app and can let those in your group know if you are okay. If there is a safety incident, you can sound the alert and it will go to everyone in your circle, letting everyone in the group that something has happened.

Another vendor was attending her first pop-up event. Kobie Carrasco regularly gives cookies, cupcakes, and other baked goods to family and friends.
“People were always wanting the baked goods that I make, and I really enjoy baking, so this is a perfect fit,” said Carrasco.
She had a variety of cupcakes available for sale, including lavender, pink champagne, lemon, and strawberry. She had sold out of the pink champagne with strawberry before the event was half over.

OBITUARY

Thomas Lugo Dec. 9, 1946 – May 11, 2021

Our beloved father, grandfather, husband, uncle, and friend, Thomas Lugo passed away on Tuesday, May 11, 2021 in Woodland. Tom was born on Dec. 9, 1946 in Wasco. In 1971, Tom graduated in the inaugural class of California State University, Bakersfield.

He began his career as an elementary school teacher at Karl Clemens Elementary School in Wasco. Tom later became the director of Migrant Education for the State of California Department of Education, running the largest assistance program for children of agricultural migrant workers in the country. He regularly traveled around the country and to Washington D.C., working to open the doors of opportunity and education to migrant children.

He met with members of Congress and activists, and was quoted as an authority on the topic by the Los Angeles Times, the Orange County Register and on C-SPAN.

Tom will be remembered for his endless curiosity and infinite generosity. A lifelong Californian, Tom knew every tiny town and country road of California, and he appreciated the diversity of natural wonders that his home state had to offer. He loved taking photos of the things he loved: nature, his family, and his pets. Tom was a gifted chef, and he was happiest when cooking for those he loved.

Tom is preceded in death by his parents, Tomas Negrete Lugo and Cenobia Reivas Lugo, and his siblings, Tony, Inez, Besie, Frank, and Rufino. He is survived by his loving wife, Joanna, and his children Chris (Maria), Matt, Nathan (Jessica), Meredith (Maxwell Lipp), and his grandchildren Chris Jr, Steven, Marissa, Krystal, Cassandra, Matthew, Isabella, Baylee and Andrew, his sister Jean, and many cousins, nieces, nephews, and loving friends. A memorial service will be held at his home on Friday, May 21 at 2 p.m. in Woodland, and a scholarship fund in Tom's name is forthcoming.

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. CASE NO. BPP-20-003101

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of DANEEL ANDREA CONGER.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by ALYSSA GUTIERREZ in the Superior Court of California, County of KERN.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that ALYSSA GUTIERREZ be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250.
